

FORT VALLEY STATE UNIVERSITY IS THE TOM JOYNER
FOUNDATION "SCHOOL" OF THE MONTH FOR JUNE 2019

Fort Valley State University has been chosen as Tom Joyner Foundation "School of the Month" for June 2019. Throughout the month of June 2019, the organization will raise funds for the university and highlight its programs and students.

Tom Joyner, a nationally syndicated radio personality, formed the foundation in an ongoing effort to support historically black colleges and universities. The "School of the Month" drive assists chosen institutions in broadening and strengthening their efforts to raise money to help students attending HBCUs.

As the "School of the Month" for June 2019, Fort Valley State University will be promoted by the Tom Joyner Morning Show and receive funds raised from listeners, alumni and other interested parties in June for student scholarships. The show airs in more than 100 markets across the country and reaches nearly eight million listeners every week.

It is vitally important that ALL alumni come together to show support for Fort Valley State University, its legacy and the students. All chapters who raise $2,500 or more will have the opportunity to do a 30 second promotion on the Tom Joyner Morning Show! These on-air spots will provide exposure to the school, branding opportunities, support recruitment efforts and raise needed dollars for student scholarships. 100% of all funds raised will go to Fort Valley State University.

The Tom Joyner Foundation will also host an Alumni Chapter and Affinity Group Challenge to help raise funds. A page will be set up on the Tom Joyner Foundation website where alumni can give directly to this initiative and to their specific chapter or affinity group.
